

Depression Follows Blockade In Berlin

Both Money And Supplies Are Short

Berlin, May 13—(AP)—Substitute the word depression for blockade and you have western Berlin's economic problem today. The blockade is lifted, but Berlin is down.

The Russian siege of almost 11 months threw Berlin into a cycle of acute business depression. Now both money and supplies are short.

With the lifting of the blockade yesterday, hopeful Germans began speculating on the possibility of a quick removal of rationing. German economic officials said this cannot be done and gave these reasons:

Rationing To Be Maintained

Rationing should be maintained until sufficient supplies are established. This may not be achieved for some time. Until there is a free flow of goods, business cannot get the stimulation it needs to start the economic pendulum swinging toward prosperity.

O. S. Curran, chief of the commerce and industry branch of the Berlin sector U. S. military government, explained the key problems:

1. Shortage of money. The per capita availability is 250 marks ($75) in western Berlin, little more than half the buying power reported in eastern Berlin.

"If goods are taken off ration," Curran said, "German economic officials fear that people from the east, with more money, will clean out the stocks and that western Berliners will be left short. The east sector and east zone are regarded as deficit areas in the necessities of life."

Supplies Still Short

2. Shortage of supply. "The lifting of the blockade took us back to the status of things as of March 1, 1948," Curran explained. "At that time the Germans were allowed 13 trains a day, which brought in 6,500 tons of freight. The airlift has been averaging 8,000 tons a day. Obviously, there has been no change for any stockpiling of note. And it will be a slow process."

Highway traffic still was not back in full stride. This is important, because the margin of difference in accumulating surpluses of consumer goods must be made up by truck travel unless there is an increase in rail transport.

For the moment there is no prospect that western German truckers will close the breach.

Still to be definitely cleared up is the Russian claim that Western Berlin exports to the western zones of Germany must carry either a Soviet stamp or a stamp of the eastern Berlin government. The west demands the right of international traffic freedom.

Doctor Breaks Rib Of Medically Dead Man, Revives Him

Santa Monica, Calif., May 13—(AP)—A man whose doctor says he was "medically dead" for from 12 to 15 minutes grinned for reporters today and said:

"I have several life insurance policies. I wonder if I can collect on them."

Reid C. Lewis, 46, an armament inspector at Douglas Aircraft here, "died" under an anesthetic a week ago, said his physician, who declined to permit use of his name. But he was revived, the doctor added, by the shock of breaking a rib.

The surgeon said he is both a doctor of medicine and doctor of osteopathy.

The doctor gave this explanation of the case:

"By every medical criterion of death, he was dead. These are the medical criteria of death: cessation of breathing, no audible heart beat, no discernible blood pressure and the loss of superficial and deep reflexes."

The "death" occurred, said the physician, after injection of the usual amount of sodium pentathol, a commonly used anesthetic in preparation for an operation. Immediately, the doctor and his assistant injected coramine directly into the heart and piped oxygen directly into the lungs, but without result. Then the physician recalled that in some cases of drowning, the shock of breaking a bone had revived supposed drowning victims. He snapped a rib with his hands, and Lewis' reflexes resumed.

ONE KILLED, 6 HURT

Kankakee, Ill., May 13—(AP)—The collision of an automobile and a farm tractor yesterday killed one person and injured six others.

Miss Wanda Kirk, 21, of Cabery, Ill., was fatally injured. Among others hurt in the accident was the girl's mother, Mrs. Ethel Kirk, 45, and a brother, Charles, 17. Mrs. Kirk suffered a skull fracture.

Chemical Filled Truck Explodes In NY Tunnel

New York, May 13—(AP)—Explosions and fire from a heavily-loaded chemical truck ripped through the Holland tunnel today, mauling a line of trucks and filling the tunnel with poisonous gas.

Eighty drums of carbon disulphide, highly toxic and highly inflammable, went off with a series of cannon-like blasts.

Burning chemicals showered down on other trucks and cars and turned a large section of the underwater tube into a raging inferno. Thirty persons—mostly firemen—were overcome or hurt by falling chunks of concrete ceiling.

Communications lines—telephone, telegraph, television and radio arteries which also go through the tunnel—were broken.

Several drivers were blown from their vehicles. There was a mad race on foot for exits.

Rescue squads carried a number of persons from the great $48,000,000 tunnel, which links New York and New Jersey under the Hudson river.

The tunnel is a major connection for transcontinental traffic and has a capacity of 46,000 vehicles a day. In some cases rescuers themselves were overcome and had to be carried out by others.

The blast occurred at 6:59 a.m. (CST) in the south—or Manhattan bound—tube of the tunnel.

All traffic was stopped for five hours as clouds of smoke and chemical fumes spread through ventilators into the other tube.

This lane of the tunnel was reopened to two-way traffic at 12:20 p.m. (CST). Officials said it was un-

Peace Negotiations At Struck Bendix Plant Recessed

South Bend, Ind., May 13—(AP)—Negotiations in the three-week-old strike at the Bendix Aviation Corporation plant were recessed indefinitely after a conference late today.

It was the first joint conference since the strike began. The CIO United Auto Workers, who had been meeting separately with federal mediators since Tuesday.

No statements were issued by either side or the mediators. The union has agreed to let Packard and Motor Car Company take its case out of the plant Monday, a company lawyer said.

Nathan Levy, South Bend attorney for Packard, said the agreement was worked out in a conference with UAW lawyers today just before Packard went into federal court to seek an injunction.

On Levy's recommendation, Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert postponed a hearing on the injunction petition till 10 a.m. Monday.

Levy indicated the agreement would permit Packard to remove all its brake dies but not all the million small parts it wants.

SAYS MINDSZENTY HAS MENTAL BREAKDOWN

Rome, May 13—(AP)—The Italian news agency Astra said today in a dispatch from Vienna that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty has suffered a mental breakdown. The Astra dispatch was quoted by the Vatican radio. There was no official confirmation anywhere.

The cardinal was convicted in February on charges of treason and blackmarketing in currency brought by the communist-controlled Hungarian government and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Ford, Union Leaders May Soon End Strike

Detroit, May 13—(AP)—Ford and union leaders talked hopefully of peace tonight as negotiators broke up until tomorrow in the Ford strike.

A new union proposal to end the crippling walkout of 65,000 Ford workers was laid on the table today.

After discussing the proposal for two and a half hours, the company asked a recess in negotiations until tomorrow (12:30 p.m. CST) to study the plan.

Meanwhile, from Washington came notice of federal interest in the strike which has now virtually shut down the entire Ford empire, throwing an estimated 100,000 production workers into idleness.

Mediation director Cyrus Ching sent word to both sides that if progress toward a settlement is not reported within a "reasonable period," he will enter the case in the public interest.

Ching's message was sent in identical telegrams to President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO-United Auto Workers and Henry Ford II.

Neither Reuther nor company spokesmen would comment on the

Reds Drive To Cut Shanghai Sea, Air Links With World

Shanghai, May 13—(AP)—The communists were driving hard today towards Shanghai's last air and sea links with the world—Lungwa airport and the Woosung harbor entrance.

Explosions could be heard throughout the day as Shanghai's more than 5,000,000 residents plodded about their business through a muggy rain.

The Chinese nationalist garrison said the blasts were due to demolitions at the outskirts, where defenses were being erected.

Airline pilots said that from the air they could see small arms fire a scant ten miles from Lungwa, which is ten miles south of the center of Shanghai (and only four miles from the city's outskirts).

On the northwest the reds' closest approach appeared to be near the village of Tianshan. This is about 20 miles from Shanghai and somewhat less from Woosung, the fortified mouth of the Whangpoo river, 10 miles north of Shanghai. The Whangpoo, which pours into the Yangtze estuary, is Shanghai's only outlet to the sea. Nationalist Shanghai could not live if it were cut.

(Hampson's account, while remarkably detailed in some respects, contained fewer mileage references than usual. Tom Lambert, AP correspondent who flew from Shanghai to Hong Kong during the day, reported censorship by the nationalist garrison was growing steadily tighter.)

A garrison communique Friday evening said the communists suffered 5,000 casualties when they were caught in a nationalist minefield near Liuhio, 21 miles northwest.

U.N. Approves U.S. Plan To Divide Italy's Colonies

Lake Success, May 13—(AP)—An American-backed plan for cutting up Italy's old colonial empire among Britain, France, Italy and Ethiopia was approved today by the United Nations political committee.

The vote was 34 to 16 on the plan that grew out of a British-Italian talks in London last week.

The 59-nation general assembly is expected to act finally on the projected late tomorrow or perhaps as late as Monday. A two-thirds vote is required for assembly approval and some of the majority backers said confidently, "it's in the bag."

A Russian scheme for international rule over the African empire Mussolini lost in the war was beaten by the committee. This plan would have given the Soviet government considerable hand in control of the former colonies. The west fought that plan at every turn.

The orders were to get this Sicilian Jesse James dead or alive.

The slaying of three policemen from ambush yesterday gave bloody emphasis to the tension. The three were machinegunned about 15 miles southeast of Palermo.

Ironically, the authorities did not believe Giuliano was responsible for those killings. They attributed the ambush to a lesser bandit, named Mauro.

However, the swarthy, dark-eyed, Giuliano and his men are estimated to have killed about 70 policemen since he took to the hills in 1943 after fleeing a patrolman who tried to seize his wagonload of black market wheat. He was 29 years old then.

Caracas, Venezuela, May 13—(AP)—An expedition including two Americans having been reported by radio reaching Angel Falls in eastern Venezuela. They are the first white persons known to have reached the falls on foot.

The falls, south of the Orinoco river between 50 and 75 miles from the border of British Guiana, are the highest in the world. They have been estimated at between 3,300 and 5,000 feet from the crest to bottom. Niagara Falls are only 169 feet high. Angel Falls were discovered from the air by an aviator, Jimmy Angel, in 1937.

Members of the present expedition from the United States are Ruth Robertson, a freelance photographer from Peoria, Ill., and Ernest Kline, cameraman with the Princeton university film center. Two Venezuelan government representatives went along to measure the exact height of the falls.

The expedition started out April 23, flying from Caracas to Kiamaria, an emergency airstrip in the Guana jungle. The party then went in a light plane to a meadow near the entrance of the falls canyon.

Pay Boost For Armed Forces Wins Approval

F. P. Matthews Named New Navy Secretary

Washington, May 13—(AP)—Francis P. Matthews, Nebraska lawyer and businessman, is President Truman's choice to succeed John L. Sullivan as secretary of the navy.

The nomination of the prominent 62-year-old Roman Catholic layman went to the senate today. It came as military and congressional circles still buzzed with Sullivan's wrathful resignation.

The date of Sullivan's retirement has been left to him. He let fire two weeks ago over the treatment of the navy department under the new secretary of defense, Louis Johnson. Writing Johnson, he contended navy plans were restricted without consulting navy officials, as he denounced Johnson's cancellation of a huge aircraft carrier, apple of the navy's eye.

An airing of the situation has been promised in the House armed services committee.

At Omaha, Matthews told reporters that he recognized unification of the armed forces as the big problem. He believes, he said, that navy prestige need not be impaired in the process. He promised to maintain naval traditions.

Matthews was a Truman supporter in the 1948 campaign. He headed the Nebraska state delegation to the democratic convention, and the group backed the president.

The Omaha has had no naval experience but remarked to reporters: "One of the strengths of this country is that the armed forces are controlled by civilians."

State Completes Its Case Against Doctor Rutledge

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 13—(AP)—After five days of testimony, during which 40 witnesses were presented, the state late today completed its case against Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., 28.

The St. Louis pediatrician is being tried on a first degree murder charge as a result of the fatal stabbing of his wife's bachelor admirer, Byron C. Hattman.

Immediately after the state rested, defense counsel moved for a directed verdict of acquittal and presented motions to withdraw some of the evidence and some of the issues.

District Judge J. E. Heiserman, however, adjourned court until 9 a.m. (CST) Monday, at which time he said he would rule on the motions.

The state's last witness, Dr. Regis Weland, deputy coroner of Linn county, testified as to the nature of the wounds found on the body of Hattman, St. Louis aircraft engineer.

7 Inmates Attack Women's Prison Head With Knives

Tehachapi, Calif., May 13—(AP)—A riot in which seven inmates armed with knives attacked a supervisor has been put down at Tehachapi state prison for women. Superintendent Alma Holzhush announced today.

The seven women, all in their twenties, took knives from a refrigerator locker in the kitchen and overpowered a supervisor, Mrs. Zula Tallman, taking her keys.

Then they headed for the detention unit, where Ruth Lillie, 20, of Ventura, who was captured Sunday a few hours after she escaped, and Consuela Quiroz, 25, Los Angeles, were quartered. Miss Quiroz had been put in the section for "stirring up trouble."

Three male guards met them and with the aid of other guards they summoned, halted the uprising. Her announcement did not say whether anyone was injured.

TORNADOES HIT TEXAS

Amarillo, Tex., May 13—(AP)—Five tornadoes danced maliciously in the plains northeast of here today and dissipated after one destroyed a ranch house and another hit utility lines northwest of the town of Panhandle.

No injuries were reported.

The others and their previous sentences are Robert Laguerre, 27, of 437 East LaSalle street, South Bend, Ind., one to ten years for robbery; Clarence Hawkins, 39, Chicago, ten years for robbery; Leonard J. Vranick, 33, Lake Village, Ind., ten years for kidnapping, and Alexander Miele, 27, Chicago, ten to 20 years for robbery.

Three other participants in the attempted break are awaiting trial. A fourth man, Andrew Evans of New Orleans, was killed in the attempt.

McGrath Endorses Foe Of FDR, Jr.

New York, May 13—(AP)—Wholehearted support of the Democratic national committee has been given to the regular Democratic opponent of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., in a riot-roaring fight for a congressional seat.

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath gave the party's full endorsement yesterday to municipal court Justice Benjamin Shallor, who is running as a candidate of the Liberal and Four Freedoms parties in next Tuesday's special election to fill a vacancy created by the death of Sol Bloom, veteran Democratic congressman.

House Group Okays 406 Million Hike

Washington, May 13—(AP)—A $406,000,000 pay hike for the nation's armed forces won unanimous approval of the House Armed Services committee today despite rising congressional clamor for government economy.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said all 28 committee members voted for the measure after he read a letter of endorsement from Secretary of Defense Johnson who also said the budget bureau reported President Truman himself had no objection.

If approved by congress, it will provide the first salary increase for officers since 1908, boosting the basic monthly income of generals and admirals, for instance, almost 50 per cent. But all military personnel would get more money, except the bottom grade enlisted man, with the increases averaging about 14 per cent.

Needed To Beat Competition

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.), who directed public hearings on the bill, said the big increases for officers were needed to meet the competition of private industry. He said officers who stay in service now do so at financial sacrifices.

By contrast, Kilday said the "re-cruit, comparatively speaking, is the highest paid man in the uniformed services, if we are willing to accept the theory of pay for rank and responsibilities."

Recruits now draw $72 a month, but before the last war they received only $21 in base pay.

The new pay bill would apply not only to active members of the armed services, but also to reserve branches, the National Guard, the Air National Guard and to the Coast Guard, public health service and the coast and geodetic survey.

Generals Will Get $975 A Month

Here are some examples of the increases (although these are figures for army personnel they apply to equivalent ranks in the other services):

	Present Monthly Basic Pay	Proposed Monthly Basic Pay
Maj. Generals and above $733	$975 to $1,005
Brig. General 550	810 to 870
Colonel 366 to 550	600 to 735
Lieut. Colonel 320 to 550	480 to 615
Major 275 to 481	405 to 540
Captain 230 to 412	330 to 465
1st Lieutenant 200 to 345	262 to 367
2nd Lieutenant 180 to 300	225 to 330

For warrant officers the increases would range from $37 for the fourth grade up to $68 for first grade.

The enlisted scale would go up more gradually, with the sixth grade man getting $2 more and the first grade enlisted man receiving $37 additional.

AIRLIFT PERSONNEL RATE PLAUDITS
IN OVERCOMING BERLIN BLOCKADE

The men who flew the airlift rate a cheer, and a big one, from the whole country as well as from Defense Secretary Johnson, who sent them a commendation through General Clay.

"Undaunted by time and weather, working hour after hour, day and night, you have demonstrated to the world unified American national defense in action," Mr. Johnson said. "Your achievement takes its place beside the great American victories of all time."

The secretary was not exaggerating. It was indeed a great victory. And more than that, it was typical of the process leading up to other great American victories, especially those in World War II.

The United States did not expect this major battle of the cold war, which is what the Berlin blockade was. It was not prepared for it. It did not want it. But when the job clearly had to be done, the armed forces did it—and, we might add, how!

The beginning was tentative, uncertain, maybe a little hopeless. First one C-47, then another, and then a few more. Ten months later, when agreement was finally reached to end the blockade, "flying boxcars" were in service on a round-the-clock schedule.

The airlift crews had flown more than 50,000,000 miles. At great expense to their country, at great danger to themselves at times, they had done the unprecedented and the seemingly impossible. They had sustained a divided city of more than 2,000,000 people. They had not only brought in the bare necessities of food, clothing and fuel, but also enough more to keep up what passes for normal life in the battered German metropolis.

It was a feat as impressive as it was unprecedented. It could scarcely fail to increase American prestige among the Germans. And, like them or not, it is better to have the Germans for us than against us. It must have given a comforting assurance of latent American power to the friendly governments of Europe. Most of all, it must have provided a lesson which the Soviet government will ponder and remember.

The Russians started out with the heartless, cruel purpose of starving the population of Berlin, if necessary, in order to force the western powers out of Berlin. Well, the Berliners did not starve and the western powers did not leave. With a determination that never flagged, they not only thwarted the cynical Soviet plot but also turned it against the Russians with a counter-blockade of their own.

Here, in miniature, was World War II all over again. America started slowly and reluctantly. It started with two strikes against it. But once under way, the potential might of the nation and the resoluteness of its citizens were not to be matched.

If Russia ever undertakes armed aggression, it may expect early success, as it did in the blockade. But it may also expect to be overtaken. And in the Marshall Plan and the North Atlantic Treaty, Russia has been given notice that this country will not again take the costly and precarious chance of total good faith and almost total unpreparedness.

America can do it the hard way, as the war and the Berlin blockade showed. But the hard way is not the best way. Today this country is more alert and prepared than ever before in time of peace. It is determined to achieve the best by being ready for the worst.

Notes On Arthritis
And Rheumatism
To Be Compared

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written For NEA Service

Twenty years ago there were only a handful of physicians and research workers trying to find a solution for the problems of arthritis and rheumatism. Today there are still too few, but the founding of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation in 1948 and the forthcoming International Congress on Rheumatic Diseases are encouraging, and they mean that greater efforts are at hand.

The first International Congress on Rheumatic Diseases to be held in the United States will take place in New York City the first week in June. Leading investigators on the rheumatic diseases from all over the world will convene for five days, presenting papers and comparing notes.

It is probably too much to expect that any dramatic solution to the problem of arthritis will be announced; it is equally doubtful that a prevention or cure for rheumatism, which is one of the most important causes of heart disease will be presented.

Worldwide Gathering
Nevertheless, the congress should greatly advance our knowledge of these crippling diseases. Prominent leaders from Europe, Latin America, Australia, New Zealand, and elsewhere will meet and listen to the ideas and work of their colleagues from other parts of the world. This cannot help but stimulate them to work even more vigorously to conquer the rheumatic diseases.

It cannot be emphasized too often that medical science, like the other sciences, depends on work done all over the world. The ideas and the knowledge which bring forth the big advances in medicine are often founded in personal contacts by means of congresses and meetings as well as by scientific writings of workers in many lands.

The fact that meetings of this sort can be held today should encourage patients with arthritis and rheumatism to realize that their suffering is not forgotten.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Question: How much would you pay for a secret formula, not harmful, for destroying excessive hair?

Answer: Nothing. The medical profession does not believe in secret remedies. If there is anything worthwhile discovered for human ailments it should be made public property so that all may benefit.

If curtains are to be starched it is a good idea to dip all the curtains from one room in starch at the same time so that you get an equal amount of crispness in the fabric.

The Poor Man's Philosopher
On The Cruel, Cruel World

By Hal Boyle
New York—AP—The poor man's philosopher asks:

"Are people getting more cruel?" This is a question in many minds today. And many have decided in their own hearts that the answer is: "Yes."

Such a conclusion is bad indeed for the world. For if a majority of people really believed mankind were getting more cruel, then mankind would soon actually be more cruel. For what men believe they are, they tend in time to become.

But most people just wonder about whether cruelty is dying or growing. Here is what a few have said to me:

People Not As Polite—A negro steward—"People are more cruel, because they aren't as polite as they were even 20 years ago. And how about those stories in the papers of children killing other children? Isn't that a terrible sign of what's wrong?"

A combat veteran—"I don't know.

But I do know we had more fellow-feeling between men fighting overseas than we do now at home in peace."

A businessman—"People aren't getting more cruel. They're just being crowded harder—that's all."

An experienced editor—"The cussedness man was born with just has more chance to show itself now."

A salesgirl—"When I get up in the morning, I don't think people are getting any more cruel. But by 5 o'clock in the afternoon I'm not so sure. I guess how you feel about that depends on what's happened to you."

Mixed Up Question

It is a mixed up question at best. In what other 35-year period have more people been starved to death, destroyed in warfare, executed in mass murders, or killed by accidents? Yet in what other similar period have more people won or sustained political independence? In what other period has mankind made more social progress, achieved greater economic freedom, or made such startling conquests over disease?

The optimist says, "Man is living longer." And the cynic replies, "Yes, but only to be miserable longer."

It is hard to decide whether many of mankind's steps are forward or backward. Life grinds people differently than it did a century ago. The wears and tears are different. But as long as he keeps groping for something he hopes will be better than he has known it is impossible to say man is getting any crueler.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh
Lawrence
Nelson

COPYRIGHT BY HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON. DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Four new arrivals on Seaside Island have complicated Henry Gough Harding's attempt to establish a colony free from the influence of the outside world. Heretofore, Harding had been putting four lovely women, selected through a matrimonial elixir, to tests to determine which would become his bride. Now Fred Sillwell, a movie producer; George Bascombe, his aide; Mollie Stark and Nona McGuire, actresses, have been shipwrecked there. Harding has just informed the new arrivals that they are expected to follow "Island Rules of Conduct."

LILLY WARREN complained, "We would get a bunch of company when it's my turn to do the housework and cooking! Anyway I'm glad the two men got settled in that shed near the barn. And say, Bea, did you notice how grumpy Fred Sillwell is?"

"How could anyone miss it?"

"He's not used to doing without liquor. That's all his ailment," Bea corrected.

"He's not always like that. He can be gay and jolly as the next one. But he needs whiskey."

"You knew him in Los Angeles?"

"I knew of him," Lilly admitted evasively. "I know he has the reputation of being a good spender. As a matter of fact I may have been in the same night club where he was throwing a party—back in the days when I used to step out."

"You knew Nona McGuire, too?"

"That one? No. I never knew her."

"All right. What are you leading up to?"

"I'm just trying to figure out a way to make things more pleasant. Maybe it won't be long before Henry gets the radio fixed, but I don't see why things shouldn't be as pleasant as possible meanwhile. And you're in charge of supplies this week."

"I get it. You want me to steal some whiskey?"

"Why not? You can do it without anybody noticing. I'll see he gets it and he doesn't even have to know you had anything to do with it."

"Harding would miss it eventually. Besides I don't even know where it's stored."

"I do," Lilly said. "And you could take a bottle or so out of a bottom case. It wouldn't be missed for a long time so nobody'd know you took it."

"So that's what you and Nona McGuire were talking about this morning?"

"You don't miss much," Lilly grumbled. "But it's the truth. She was telling me how irritable Fred gets."

"I'd like to help you out, Lilly," Bea said. "But why should I stick my neck out for Sillwell?"

Mrs. Warren eyed her speculatively. "It could mean something—but never mind. I can handle it myself. At least I suppose I can count on you not to blab?"

"That's something a school-teacher learns early in life," Miss Cosgrove said.

At dinner that evening Sillwell's glumness was replaced by a vivacity which told of both accomplishment and not too strict rationing. Bea Cosgrove was not positive it was an improvement.

THE third morning after the wreck of the Gullwing, Bea and George Bascombe walked along the trail to Fisherman's Beach. George stumbled over a rock. "As if it wasn't bad enough, being stuck on this dirtpile with a bunch of freaks, but to lose all my glasses!"

"Thanks," Bea said.

"Present company always excluded," he grumbled. "But when you think of the six spare pair of spectacles I had, you'd think I might have put one spare in my pocket."

"You're lucky to be alive," she pointed out.

George Bascombe snorted. "Just after I got out of the water, felt the solid beach sand, I'd have agreed with you. Now I'm fed, rested and fairly comfortable. I can entertain doubts. Have you ever considered the life of a parasite?"

"Are you talking about your past or present life?" Bea asked. "Now be careful. We're coming to the steep part of the trail."

"The steep part? My toes are already pushed through the front end of these borrowed shoes. Let's stop here. The others salvaged all the loose wreckage from the Gullwing yesterday. And no glasses!"

"Harding thought that little blow last night might have broken up your boat."

"I suppose that guy never makes mistakes?" Bascombe asked.

"Yes," Bea Cosgrove said. "You put some feeling into that word."

"WATCH where you're going!"

Bea snapped. "Now, down this way—and there's the beach." A moment later she added, "And for your edification, it is now covered with wreckage."

"All right. You win! He wins! You're both wonderful and clever. Now if you'll just find a green case!"

George Bascombe walked slowly up and down the beach, in and out of the timbers and boxes, bent over so his eyes were within a few feet of the ground.

But Bea found a small green case, opened it, took out an unbroken pair of thick-lensed glasses and handed them to him. "Try those on for size."

He took them eagerly, slipped them on. He snatched them off, polished their lenses on the tail of his shirt and gave a great sigh of relief as the nose piece fit into the deep groove on the cartilage of his nose.

"My savior!" He kissed her. "I'm a new man!"

Bea laughed. "The old one was quieter."

George stepped back a pace and stared at her. "My wonder girl! And a beauty! You're beautiful like I imagined. And they told me you were a schoolteacher!"

"I don't think I'd like to be something you imagined," Miss Cosgrove said. "Shall we get to work and see what we can salvage?"

Why: Aid To Backward Areas Will Be Slow

Washington—President Truman's plan to put American help into backward nations will probably move a great deal slower than first guesses had it. The stream of American machinery moving into the more primitive nations will be a mere trickle at first. It will need a relatively small sum of $60,000,000 for the first year, starting July 1. Here's why:

The backward areas need to do a good deal for their peoples before they will be able to absorb much modern machinery. The needs are outlined in a study the International Labor Office (ILO) has just done. It's on Latin America, but the findings can be applied to almost any backward area. The ILO report is being discussed right now in Montevideo, Uruguay, where ILO experts are talking over Latin America's plans for raising living standards. The report says the Latin nations need to find out:

1. Just how many workers they have. 2. What kinds of industries they need, what they can build out of their own raw materials and what skills they have to teach their people to do the job. 3. How they can best train their workers. Masses of them are peons who ride into town on burros with no notion of how to use a lathe, a drill press or even a monkey wrench. 4. How to train supervisors to see that the trained peon does a good job. 5. How to find the teachers to train the supervisors. 6. And, once they have all this, how to shunt the trained worker to the job that needs him.

The ILO is 29 years old and has approached this diagnosis slowly, so that much of this advice has already come out piecemeal and many Latin governments are already started on some of the programs. For some years now the United States has loaned technical men to the southern republics, and many of the young Latin workers have been here for training so that they can return home to train others.

Cuba, for instance, needs training schools and has to face unemployment in the sugar industry during the slack season. So it put the two worries together and is now building 1,500 schools by using sugar workers in the slack months. In 1948 it built 400 training schools which in turn will train better workers. Argentina now gives trade training in 150 schools. Brazil has built 40 trade schools in the past five years, and Chile has put up 38 in the past 10. For the most part these schools train young workers. But several nations—Argentina, Chile, Cuba, Ecuador, Peru and Venezuela—are trying to get their adults into night trade schools.

The ILO report says that some Latins have to be taught beginner's arithmetic before they can begin to run the sort of family farm which supports so many families in the United States. Many have to be taught simple health lessons.

One of the big problems in setting up such training schools is the cost of the machinery for the school rooms. Some American help—in dollars—may be allocated to buying classroom machinery. Much may go to financing American teachers.

The ILO report says the governments should plan first to develop their own raw materials, build up consumers' goods industries for their own people and build up both transportation and power. The report thinks Latin America may have to wait a while before it can set up any heavy industry.

Japanese Traffic May Go To Right

Tokyo—(AP)—Motorists and pedestrians in Japan soon may be learning the right is the right and not the wrong side for traffic. The Japanese cabinet is considering revision of existing traffic regulation to conform to American style instead of English.

(China switched traffic to the right side of the street during the war.)

Kaneschichi Masuda, chief cabinet secretary, says that the change probably will be adopted. The Public Safety Division of GHQ says that the suggested revision appears entirely Japanese inspired.

Renders Decisions On Five School Petitions

Three petitions seeking changes in the boundaries of school districts were granted, two other petitions were denied, one was continued for further consideration by County Superintendent John Deem, as the result of hearings held at the court house. The superintendent took the petitions under advisement after a series of hearings on May 5, when a large amount of testimony was presented by citizens of the districts involved. His decisions were announced Friday.
The petition of Harry T. Killam and others to reestablish approximately the original boundaries of West Liberty common school district No. 83, was granted by the superintendent.
The petition of James E. Hadden, asking that three sections of land which represented the balance of the former West Walnut Grove school district No. 90, be detached from the Arenzville-Concord-Chapin-Meredosia community unit school district No. 27, and attached to the North Jacksonville community consolidated school district No. 3, was also granted.
A petition of R. W. Lacy, petitioning approximately 400 acres in the Arcadia neighborhood from the North Jacksonville community consolidated school district No. 5 and into the Arenzville-Concord-Chapin-Meredosia district No. 27, was denied.
The county superintendent explained that this petition was refused on the grounds that it was opposed by the parents of the only school children living within the described area. Had the petition been granted, these children would have been forced to attend a school eight to 12 miles from home. This was felt unnecessary at this time, as a school probably will be in session in the Arcadia neighborhood.
Another hearing was held on a petition of Elmer Moody and others asking that the former Independence school district No. 70 be reestablished. This petition was granted, in view of the fact that it represented the wish of 96 per cent of the voters of the area.
A petition of George W. Martin and others for the reestablishment of the Union Grove school district 39 was denied, on the grounds that too much difference of opinion existed among the residents of the school district.
A petition of Marion Zachary and others seeking to reestablish Hebron school district No. 40 was set aside for the time being. Supt. Deem said a decision will be rendered later.

Navy's Jet Patrol Plane Takes a Bow

Lifting its nose from a wet runway in Baltimore, Md., after a remarkably short run take-off, the Navy's first jet-powered patrol plane, the Martin Mercator, gets airborne. Noted for its high rate of climb, the swift, hard-hitting plane can fight its way into and out of tight places. The 40-ton patrol ship looks like a regular twin-engine job, but hides much of its power potential in two jet engines mounted behind conventional propeller-driven motors.

Air Force Unveils Its Newest Jet Fighter

Here is the Air Force's newest jet fighter, the Republic XF-91, after it completed flight tests at Muroc Dry Lake, Calif. The plane is powered by a turbojet and will also have rocket motors, which have not yet been installed. The rockets will be used for accelerated take-off and climb and for operation at high altitudes.

New Requirements For Enlistments In Army Outlined

The new requirements for enlistment and reenlistment in the regular army were announced Friday by Sgt. John S. Messmore, local recruiting officer. He stated that married men applying for enlistment from civilian life with dependent children are authorized to enlist in the regular army only if entitled to enlistment in grade four or higher. This includes men reenlisting within 90 days from date of discharge. This means former privates in the old grade of sergeant or higher who held their military occupational specialty long enough to qualify for grade four under present War Department directives, and now have dependents are eligible for enlistment. Applicants for the air force from civilian life with dependents are authorized to enlist in the air force only if entitled to enlistment in grade three or higher. Men reenlisting within 90 days from the date of discharge from the air force, even though not entitled to enlistment in one of the first three grades, can be reenlisted without regard to the number of dependents. Former members of the army, navy, air force, coast guard and marine corps who served 24 months or longer may enlist in the army or air force provided they were discharged in grade five or higher. Individuals with less than 24 months prior service are eligible to enlist in the regular army only if discharged in grade six or higher. There are vacancies in both the U. S. army and U. S. air force for all interested, alert and ambitious young men. Advancement in the latest technical fields is available to those who join now.

Train Takes Station for a Ride

A railroad station gets a train ride, as a replica of an old Chicago station is moved to a new site on the Railroad Fair grounds in Chicago. Waving the engine on is M. J. Niesavage, trainmaster of the fair, which reopens June 25. The girls hanging out the station windows are just along for the ride.

Pro And Con On The Health Plan

Washington—(AP)—Here are some of the main arguments, pro and con, regarding the controversial national compulsory health insurance program.

1. Proponents say "tens of millions" of our people lack adequate medical care and the only way to assure it is through compulsory pre-paid sickness insurance based on payroll deductions. Says the opposition: There's no evidence for such a figure in the healthiest country in the world. Moreover no one who has ever sought or desired medical care has been denied it.

2. Proponents: Assurance of medical care and treatment is the key to the nation's health. Opponents: Better nutrition, housing, clothing and recreation programs are just as important to the nation's health as medical care.

3. Proponents: The proposed program, by safeguarding health, will make us a stronger nation. Opponents: "Socialized medicine" will undermine our democracy. It's the first step towards the regimentation of medical care is too expensive—only the rich can really afford adequate care. Opponents: There's no cry from the vast majority of middle-class people, or rural groups for the government's plan.

4. Proponents: The present system of medical care is too expensive—only the rich can really afford adequate care. Opponents: There's no cry from the vast majority of middle-class people, or rural groups for the government's plan.

5. Proponents: The quality of medical care would be improved. Opponents: Medical care would drop from first rate to third-rate.

6. Proponents: There would be better distribution of medical care. Opponents: No system of compulsory health insurance will affect the distribution of doctors, dentists, or nurses.

7. Proponents: Doctors will be just as free as they ever were. They can choose the patients they want, and patients will be free to pick their already saddled with all kinds of payroll deductions.

12. Proponents: There will be no doctor. Opponents: It will be "state" medicine—with both doctor and patient responsible to the government.

The doctor will only be "free" insofar as he abides by government regulations.

8. Proponents: There will be no political interference with doctors. Administration of the plan will be handled by local groups in the doctor's own community. Opponents: The government still will be the boss.

9. Proponents: The plan will cost no more than is now spent by the American people on medical care. Opponents: The plan will cost "billions" annually, and moreover, bureau after bureau will be added.

10. Proponents: "Voluntary" plans of health insurance have not solved the problem of medical care. Opponents: Voluntary plans will do the trick where the need exists.

11. Proponents: Under the traditional system of paying for medical care, people are often saddled with big bills at a time when they have no funds. Opponents: The people abuses of the system. People won't demand excessive services. Opponents: Oh, yes, they will. We'll become a nation of hypochondriacs.

MAJOR HENRI SERVAIS SLATED TO STAY HERE

Assurances that Major Henri Servais will remain in Jacksonville indefinitely were included in a report received Thursday from Col. Herbert Martin of Peoria, the divisional commander. The report followed the annual inspection and audit of the local post.

Col. Martin observed that the work in Jacksonville showed an increase of 34% over that of the previous fiscal year. Ordinarily the Salvation Army does not permit their officers to remain in a single city for more than four years, the time Major Servais has already served here.

Mayor Praises Work Of School Safety Patrols
A proclamation designating Saturday, May 14, as School Safety Patrol Rally Day has been issued by Mayor Ernest Hoagland, who complimented highly the work that safety patrols are doing in Jacksonville and community.
School Safety Patrols have been sponsored in this city for a number of years by the Chicago Motor Club. The mayor's statement follows:
"Recognized as a fundamental responsibility of good representative government, the protection of the life, limb and property of its citizens ranks second to none among civic duties. In this field, year in and year out, School Safety Patrols render invaluable service in protecting school children from the hazards of street traffic, thereby contributing greatly to the cause of good government. In full acknowledgement thereof, I publicly proclaim Saturday, May 14, to be School Safety Patrol Day.
"In this connection, I respectfully urge all citizens to pause and pay due tribute to the boys and girls who are enrolled in School Safety Patrols and to give full cooperation in this valuable traffic safety effort. Traffic accidents are costly, exacting an unnecessary toll through death and injury. Complete public cooperation with the School Safety Patrols is one means of reducing this loss.
"On behalf of the government and citizenry of Jacksonville, I commend the members of the School Safety Patrols throughout the state. They are rendering distinguished service in protecting the citizens of tomorrow from the traffic hazards of today."
Ernest L. Hoagland, Mayor.

Our Saviour's Hospital School of Nursing will hold open house for prospective nurses on Saturday and Sunday, May 14 and 15, from 1 to 5 p. m.
These two days have been set aside by the American Nurses' association as recruitment days and nursing schools throughout the nation are asked to hold open house in order to acquaint men and women interested in nursing with the training facilities available in their communities.
Our Saviour's Nursing school, which is conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross, in complying with this request cordially invites all men and women who are considering nursing as a career to visit their school on either of the two days.
A reception will be held, with the students nurses acting as hostesses, and will be followed by a tour of the school.

Kiwanians Tell About 3 Kinds Of Government
Two Jacksonville attorneys and a Y.M.C.A. secretary took part in a panel discussion of the three conflicting ideologies—Communism, Socialism, and Democracy—at a meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday at the Dunlap hotel.
Attorney John B. Wright, explained that he is an unqualified foe of Communism, said the Russian people are fanatical in their fervor for that form of government. The speaker declared that Communism is the antithesis of individual freedom.
A description of Socialism as it exists under the labor government in England was given by Attorney Harry Story. He pointed out that while the economy of Great Britain has been nationalized in four major fields, the English people still cherish their civil liberties.
Paul Hartman, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., extolled the virtues of Democracy, such as citizens of the United States enjoy. Mr. Hartman said that under the American system, government exists to serve the people and not to dominate them.
The speaker who presented the interesting discussion were introduced by Walter Hamilton, program chairman.

U. S. Asks Permission to Fire Missiles Over Bahamas

Map at right shows how the proposed 3000-mile-long guided missile test range across the South Atlantic would cross the Bahamas, a British possession. The U. S. is now negotiating with Britain for permission to fire supersonic missiles across the islands. This development indicates that the U. S. will settle on the Banana River, Fla., Naval Air Station, map at left, as the launching site of the proposed $200,000,000 test center. Plans call for observation posts along the first 500 miles of the 3000-mile range to track flight and performance of missiles.

Mop, Sweet Mop

For a while there seemed to be a question of who would get the mop—the people who owned it or the robin who built a nest on it. But the Columbus, O., family moved away and left the mop. So Mrs. Robin is all set. And she even has the blessings of the new tenant, Mrs. Ralph Kaminsky.

ICC Grants Bell Temporary Boost Of Phone Rates
Chicago, May 12.—(AP)—Illinois Bell Telephone company today was granted a temporary rate increase, but the amount was less than one-quarter of the $34,100,000 the company had asked for.
The Illinois Commerce Commission gave the utility permission to raise its rates $7,600,000—just enough the commission said, to cover wage raises and increased expenses incurred because of taxes on those raises.
In addition, the commission provided the $7,600,000 hike should be proportioned on an annual basis, but be effective only until Oct. 10, 1949.
Today's action affects some 2,500,000 subscribers, 1,500,000 of them in Chicago and the remainder in approximately 600 other Illinois communities.
The company president, G. E. McCorkle, immediately issued a statement saying "we have not seen the order, but the amount as reported is completely inadequate to cover our present emergency needs."

Memorial Book Shelf Planned For Library
Plans for establishing a Memorial book shelf have been under consideration of the board of trustees of the Jacksonville Public Library. Several inquiries have been received from people who would like to perpetuate the memory of a friend or relative by giving books which will have a lasting value.
Reports from other libraries where such a policy has been followed indicate that in recent years the families and friends of those who gave their lives in the World War have welcomed an opportunity to establish such memorials.
A special book plate is to be designed for the Jacksonville Public Library. Books will be on display for a period of time on a Memorial book shelf and will then be placed in circulation.
Anyone who is interested is invited to consult with Miss Frances Bailey, the librarian, as to the selection of suitable books.

IN HONOR FRATERNITY
Charles Aguar of this city has been initiated into Chi Gamma Iota, veterans' scholastic honorary fraternity, at the University of Illinois. Mr. Aguar's acceptance into the fraternity was announced by R. F. Schaffer, Jr., its secretary.
Effective May 15 closed all day Sundays. THE JULIENNE.

Ruh And Durocher Nine Scores 17-4 Victory; Dealers Win 3 To 1

Ruh and Durocher's "B" league entry proved to softball fans that they're going to plenty of trouble in that loop when they trounced the Red and White store nine 17 to 4 in the preliminary encounter at the southside park last night.

This newcomer team to local softball circles has listed an impressive array of softball talent on its roster. The game was called at the end of five innings by virtue of the 10-run rule.

Sam Pearson, ex-performer for the Macomb Dodgers, has been picked up by the Ruh and Durocher manager. He initiated himself into the local softball circles by blasting the first home run of the season in a league game. The sphere was last seen sailing over the left-center field fence.

Dealers Win
In the evening's finale, the Implement Dealers bumped off the Moose "A" league entry 3-1 in a tight ball game.

Both clubs collected a total of 3 hits, but the Dealers cashed in on several Moose miscues to tally their scores.

McNeely, Implement Dealers twirler, didn't allow a hit until the sixth inning when the Moose nine scored with two timely blows.

Capot And Ponder Are Favored In $75,000 Preakness Today

Baltimore, May 13—(P)—Ten horses, including the No. 1 and 2 finishers in the derby—Ponder and Capot—are scheduled to have it out tomorrow in the $75,000-added preakness stakes at Old Pimlico.

The surprisingly large field lined up just as expected with the exception of one "sleeper" which hadn't even been figured to start.

The newcomer is Taran, second horse to go into the entry box. He is owned by Sylvester Labrot, Jr., of New Orleans, whose Bovard wound up third in Citation in the 1948 preakness.

Others, whose owners must plank down $1,000 to see their colors at the post at 3:15 p.m. (central standard time), are Clifford Moores' Old Rockport, Crispin Oglebay's Noble Impulse, Mrs. E. H. Ellison's Sun Bahram, Isidor Bieber's Palestinian, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Model Cadet, King Ranch's Curander, and Christina Stable's Parliament.

All will carry 126 pounds. It is likely that only nine will face the starter, however, depending on track conditions at race time. Trainer J. P. "Doc" Jones said Noble Impulse would go only with a fast track, and Henry Clark stated flatly that Parliament would not run un-

Single In Tenth Gives Braves Edge On Brooklyn 6-5

Boston, May 13—(P)—With the bases filled and one out, Bob Elliott lashed a single into centerfield to drive in the run with which the Boston Braves subdued the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-5 tonight before a 32,157 crowd.

The Braves outthrew the Dodgers by an 18-7 margin and missed several scoring chances. The victory kept the Braves deadlocked with the Giants for first place in the National league.

The loss, coupled with Cincinnati's 7-0 decision over Chicago, dropped the Dodgers into fourth place and Cincinnati's Reds moved into third.

Johnny Sain, who won his third victory of the campaign, began his own winning rally in the 10th by slicing a two bagger into the right field corner.

Sain, the first batter in the extra inning, hustled to third as Ed Stanky dumped a single into right. Stanky, who hit safely in five of his six trips, alertly continued running and reached second safely on Carl Furillo's throw to the plate which prevented Sain from scoring.

Al Dark, who hit safely on four of his five times at bat, was walked purposely to fill the bases.

The same strategy had worked for the Dodgers in the Tribe's last of the ninth.

It appeared that the tactic might be successful again as Earl Torgeson popped high to Jackie Robinson. But Elliott, after looking at a called strike and a ball, whaled the next pitch through the middle of the diamond into center and Pete Reiser, running for Sain, scored easily.

The climax blow, breaking up a 2-2 tie, was hit by Ed Bockman in the last of the ninth with none out. Wally Westlake and Ralph Kiner got the other round trippers.

St. Louis scored its lone run off starter Rip Sewell in the fifth. Hugh Casey, who pitched the last two innings after Sewell was pulled for a pinch hitter, got credit for the win.

Giants Sign Leo As Manager For Another 2 Years

New York, May 13—(P)—The New York Giants tonight signed Leo Durocher as manager for two more years. His present contract expires at the end of the 1949 season.

No salary terms were announced. President Horace Stoneham said the board of directors of the club voted unanimously to extend the contract immediately.

Durocher's 1949 salary was believed to be about $60,000.

Leo returned to baseball's good graces 10 days ago after a brief suspension. He was batted by Commissioner A. B. Chandler pending a hearing on charges that he kicked a fan at the Polo grounds following a game. The commissioner exonerated Durocher, ruling that there was insufficient evidence to prove any charges.

The formal contract signing will take place in the Giants' offices tomorrow.

Giants Wallop Phillies 9 To 1

New York, May 13—(P)—The New York Giants celebrated Manager Leo Durocher's new contract tonight by pulverizing the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-1. Bobby Thomson was the chief maver with two triples and a three-run homer while Johnny Mize also contributed a homer.

The Giants unleashed a savage fourteen-hit attack while Larry Jansen limited the Phils to five hits.

Thomson drove in three runs with his fifth home run and a pair of lusty triples.

Blueboy Batsmen Drop 7-3 Tilt To Millikin; Benefit Game Today afternoon.

The tilt, a CCI league fray, was the third loop loss the local college nine has sustained this season. The Brooks-coached club has notched one league win. They thumped Augusta several weeks ago.

The over-all season standing of the Illinois College outfit shows a record of 4 wins and 6 losses.

John Maynard, leading Blueboy twirler, represented the locals on the mound for the entire nine-inning session. The lanky right-hander allowed 11 Millikin hits.

With big Bill Gross leading the way, the IC batsmen put in a credible day at the plate. They banged out 9 safeties against the Big Blue's chucker, but couldn't seem to turn the hits into runs with any degree of success.

The host club did most of its damage in the first three innings. Touching Maynard for a total of four hits in these three frames, they rolled 5 runs across the platter. The locals had three zeros to show for their efforts in the initial trio of chapters.

The Blueboy batters got hot in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings and scored single runs in each. On the other hand, Millikin rang up three goose-eggs in these cantos.

The host batters put the finishing touches on the game in their half of the eighth inning. They combined two hits and an error to score a brace of runs and send the Illinois College nine back home with a 7-3 defeat.

The IC club meets the Jacksonville Moose nine on the Russell Field diamond at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon. This tilt is being staged for the benefit of IC student J. J. DeLaPaz, who broke his leg while participating in intramural sports on the campus a few weeks ago.

NOT SO GOOD—NOT BAD!

That was the general comment heard when members of the freshman agriculture class of Winchester high school weighed in Richard Schofield's eight purebred Hampshire pigs. The 56 day old porker swung the scale pointer around to 24 pounds.

Nine of the 16 freshmen enrolled in the agriculture department have swine projects. The students recognize the value of weighing the pigs at weaning time, 56 days. This practice is becoming more and more prevalent throughout the Cornbelt as it offers a real clue to the actual worth of the sow.

ARE COONS KITTENS?

As a mother, a black cat on the hadn't become ill and died. The Fred Beckman farm located eight miles west of Jacksonville has all the ways been considered pretty much a failure. She's had seven or eight litters in the past four years, and raised only one kitten.

Fifty Local Art Classes To Exhibit At Strawn

Work from over 50 Jacksonville public school art classes will be on display May 15 through May 22 at the Strawn Gallery. Miss Marguerita Schoedsack, art consultant for the local schools, has charge of the exhibit.

The show is open to the public and may be seen Sundays from 2-5 p.m. and weekdays from 2-5 and 7-9 p.m. Included in the display are mural, oil, water color, crayon, chalk and tempera paintings and craft work. All the projects from grades one through six was done under the supervision of the grade school teachers. Miss Kay Toussaint directs art work at David Prince. Miss Anna Doan is the J.H.S. instructor.

The art work in the lower grades shows a development through three general stages, scribble, symbolic and realistic. Scribbling is done when the youngest is beginning to manipulate materials and tools and is exploring with what is to him, a new game.

Symbols are full of meaning for the child and lead, finally, to realism. In the elementary grades the work is developed from daily experience of unit study, either as an individual or as a group.

The high school classes will exhibit a wide range of mediums, techniques and subjects in their work and crafts. Each of the 77 students in the classes is represented by at least one picture. Of particular interest are the winning entries from the Decatur Regional Scholastic Awards contest, entered by several local students.

Students in all public school classes will visit the exhibit sometime during its eight days. John C. Deem, Morgan county superintendent of schools, has also extended an invitation to the county schools.
